MARINE CORPS COMMUNICATION-ELECTRONICS SCHOOL (MCCES) ORDER ONE

TITLE: MCCES Entry Level Student Rules

CANCELLATION: MCCES Order One dtd 27 March 2020

PURPOSE: To publish a list of expectations for the Marines of MCCES. Many of the below expectations and rules are extracted from a myriad of Marine Corps and MCCES policies and orders that pertain to the preservation of good order and discipline. This is not a complete list of all rules that Marines adhere to. However, these particular rules are intended to help form your conduct in accordance with Marine Corps standards of acceptable behavior and to avoid commissions of misconduct. Failure to adhere to these rules may result in disciplinary action and/or separation.

AUTHORITY: Commanding Officer, Marine Corps Communication-Electronics School

APPLICABILITY: This MCCES order is applicable to all entry level students assigned to MCCES.

1. Marines must treat one another with dignity, respect, and honor. You will be treated the same by MCCES permanent personnel.
2. Marines must comply with all unit, base, Marine Corps, Department of the Navy (DON), and Department of Defense policies, orders, and directives.
3. Fraternalization between students and permanent personnel is forbidden. To prevent any perception of fraternization, students are not allowed in the privately owned vehicles (POV) of any permanent personnel.
4. Room visitation between members of the opposite sex is prohibited.
5. Romantic/sexual contact, to include hugging, kissing, cuddling, hand holding, etc., is not authorized on the MCCES campus. This includes the barracks and adjacent areas (i.e. the smoke pits and parking lots).
6. Hazing, sexual harassment, and sexual assault are strictly forbidden. Keep your hands to yourself and be respectful towards fellow Marines.
7. The use of racial or sexist slurs is expressly forbidden as is any means of communication - verbal, written or digital - that demeans or insults a Marine's race, gender, sexual orientation, nationality, or ethnic origin. This includes the playing of music or the wearing of liberty attire that contains such language or slurs.
8. Alcohol is not allowed in the student barracks, regardless of the ages of the occupants.
9. Illegal drugs, to include marijuana and other forms of THC, and drug paraphernalia, are forbidden regardless of state laws. Marines may possess prescription drugs that are prescribed to them. Marines may not provide their prescription drugs to fellow Marines.
10. The only personnel allowed in student barracks rooms are:
 - (a) Assigned occupants to the room.
 - (b) Fellow entry level students of the same sex.
 - (c) Personnel conducting official business.
11. Students living in the barracks must obey published leave and liberty policies.
12. Students must sign in all guests who visit the barracks.
13. After published curfew hours, no guests - to include fellow students - are allowed in barracks rooms. The only students authorized in said rooms are the students assigned to those specific rooms.
14. Students will not alter the locking mechanisms of the barracks doors.
15. All trash will be disposed of properly in provided receptacles (do NOT flush baby wipes down the toilet). Utilize recycling bins as provided.
16. Students may not drive POVs or bring a POV aboard the base unless authorized by their O5 commander.
17. Students will adhere to Marine Corps customs and courtesies, which include but are not limited to:
 - (a) When addressed by a senior Marine, students will stand and come to the position of parade rest. This applies if the senior Marine is wearing civilian attire.
 - (b) Students will address senior ranking Marines by their rank. They will answer questions with the appropriate response, followed by either the Marine's rank (for enlisted) or "Sir"/"Ma'am" for officers. For example, "Yes, Corporal" or "I am waiting for my class leader, sir".
 - (c) When a student in uniform encounters an individual wearing civilian clothes who is known to be an officer, that student will salute and offer the appropriate greeting of the day.

INDIVIDUAL DUTY: Every person to whom this Order applies is charged with individual responsibility of knowing and understanding the rules herein and/or reporting any known violation of this Order.

EFFECTIVE DATE: As published. This Order will expire when rescinded.

BOTTOM LINE: Consider the consequences of your choices and make good choices.

DO THE RIGHT THING.
